For Infirmary Director—HENRY KLEMP, of Canton.The sheriff might parole the rest of them.There are several wars now that are not over.There will be no "drivel" in the Democratic platform.The Prohibitionists seem to have no great love for the army canteen.One of them got out of jail much easier than the sheriff got him in.Maybe Grosvenor wanted that lost plank to make a new mouthpiece.If the sheriff ever catches that horse thief again he will give him a real good scolding.At any rate, no one has accused Senator Hoar of writing it. Hoar is not a driveler.There is still difficulty making the Filipinos believe that liberty and cannon are synonymous.The Chicago strike that has been on for months, is about settled. The magic word arbitrate did the business.No platform was ever so thoroughly repudiated by the party that made it than the "drivel" that was adopted at Philadelphia.When it comes to a discussion of the Boxers, the Honorable Augustus Ruhlin, of Summit county, must be taken into consideration.Lord Roberts has reported the pacification of another province but he doesn't give the number of his men the Boers took prisoner.About all the leaders in the Republican party are putting in their time denying that they had anything to do with the platform.Canton got through the hot spell without a single heat prostration, which is sufficient indication that this is a good summer resort.A great many of the Republican leaders would like to shove General Grosvenor's plank down his throat, but that wouldn't keep him quiet.Grosvenor says there is nothing left but the Philadelphia speeches. As they were mostly wind it may be said that the convention has entirely evaporated.Maybe it would be a good plan for the sheriff to brand his prisoners when he puts them in, so the officers in surrounding towns will know them when they get out.Mr. Roosevelt isn't going to be dignified enough to wait till he has been officially told of his nomination before starting out on a campaign tour. His campaign is destined to develop into the farce of the century.It has been observed that the Cantonians who make the most strenuous objections to the seriousness of winter make the most fuss about the heat of summer. And we are not sure this condition is confined exclusively to Cantonians.In its supreme effort to say absolutely nothing in the platform, the committee having in charge the Philadelphia utterance disgusted even General Grosvenor and it must be admitted that anything that can disgust Grosvenor is very, very nauseating to the public.The supineness of the administration has broken out in the navy department and they are letting the flag be shot at without replying to the insult. The commander of the Monocacy was probably afraid of getting called to account if he returned the fire.Talk of an extra session of congress is now rife. The Chinese situation is likely to be made the occasion for the assembling of the representatives to help the campaign with something in the way of the spectacular.We entirely agree with General Grosvenor that the Republican national platform doesn't mean anything.The wink of the trusts is a expressive that one can almost hear it every time they contemplate the trust plank in the Philadelphia platform.Rear Admiral Remy has been sent to Asiatic waters and will relieve Kempff.
What is the matter with Kempff?
Hasn't he done good work, or does his name sound too German? The administration has never lost an opportunity to embarrass men with German names.
The case of Schley is an example.General I. R. Sherwood's suggestion that Buffalo Bill be named to offset the Roosevelt fiasco, is as clever and timely as it is audacious. But if we are to have a campaign of buffoonery, such as the Philadelphia convention has given impetus, the suggestion of General Sherwood is not without merit.The son of Thomas C. Platt is one of the heavy holders in the New York ice trust. The father doubtless knows of his son's doings, as the young man has not exhibited any great money-getting qualities without the aid of his father.
In this connection it is also well to remember that Platt nominated Roosevelt for vice-president.A great many Ohio people believe that with Judge A. W. Patrick for second place on the Democratic ticket this fall Ohio can be taken from the McKinley column. Judge Patrick made a great run in Ohio last fall and came close to being elected. There would be no side issues to interfere this year and the result would be that what he lacked then he would get now. That is the theory his boomers are working on and they think that it is a potent argument.Of course every fellow has a right to do what he pleases, but it looks just a trifle caddish for a lot of former Republican city officials, who are not engineers employed for professional opinion, to turn in against the city from which they drew large salaries and voluntarily go out of their way to make affidavits in favor of the Shocks as against the city. They might, at least, have gone quietly about their own business.News reports declare that a wild steer ran rampant in the streets of Cincinnati Tuesday and owned the town until finally chased beyond the corporate limits. It is believed to have been a member of the staff of the Toledo Blade, sent on for the purpose of giving an ocular demonstration of the Blade's attitude, in the home of the new Republican national committee man from Ohio.David B. Hill says that the nomination of Roosevelt for vice-president increases the chances of the Democrats in New York state. He does not believe that Roosevelt will help the ticket anywhere. He also is of the opinion that McKinley is vastly weaker than he was four years ago, and that McKinley's weakness and the blunders of the Republican party have given the Democrats the finest chance they have had since 1834.The friends of Senator Foraker are now saying that he was sick or he would have made a better speech nominating President McKinley at Philadelphia. This infers that his subject was such as to debilitate him in even approaching it. That is not the case, however. Foraker has degenerated. He hasn't the stamina to stand for his friends any more and his position in the Hanna band wagon is ludicrous. He cannot make a speech on the prescribed lines and as he has lost his independence he falls utterly to meet even a very low standard. But his speech was about as good at Philadelphia as it was at St. Louis, four years ago. The fact is that, in the vernacular, Foraker is a "dead one."The allied forces have decided that it doesn't make much difference to them whether Li Hung Chang reaches Peking at all. They do not propose to wait a moment, once having tasted the fruits of China. There is no longer any concealment made as to the real issue. The dissemination of China is what is desired and is what will be accomplished but probably not without rivers of blood flowing. The missionaries that have been paid by people in the United States and elsewhere, while wait stalked in many homes next door, in many instances, to the largest contributor, have started the trouble and have succeeded in teaching the Chinese enough civilization to use Mauser rifles and other instruments of certain death when properly handled. It is queer how civilization first teaches people to shoot right.There has been a great slump in the ordering of locomotives during the past month and car orders have fallen off very much.

cellent music, has recently been added.

CLAIM OF SENATOR HANNA.Fourth of July Celebration in Canton Is the People's and Not the Politician's Demonstration—What Judge Day, Mayor Rice and a Democratic Council Did.The Cleveland Plain Dealer, which is conceded to be very close to Senator Hanna and would have no object in quoting him otherwise than correctly even if it so desired, contained, Wednesday, an interview with that gentleman, who is chairman of the Republican national committee, in which the senator referred to the Fourth of July celebration in Canton in a way that is resented by Cantonians generally and especially by the Democrats of Canton, who are loyal to their home city and have been assisting in the demonstration as a matter of home pride and not for the purpose of furthering the campaign of anyone, Democrat or Republican. Senator Hanna, in the interview, is reported to have said:"On the Fourth of July Mr. McKinley probably will come to Ohio to attend the grand demonstration in his honor, to be given by the people of Canton. I received a letter some time ago, saying something about the affair.
It is pretty certain that the president will be at home on that day and that they will have a great time in Canton."All will agree with Senator Hanna that the celebration in Canton will be a great affair, but his presumption in referring to it as a Republican jubilee is characteristic. The celebration in Canton will be given in honor of the heroes of the two wars and especially for the heroes of the Spanish-American war. A captured Spanish cannon is to be dedicated and this is the cause of the celebration. But while Canton was about it the enterprise of the city suggested that it be done right. President McKinley will be an honored guest on that occasion, but he will come just like thousands of others. The celebration will not be given "in honor of President McKinley," whether Mr.
Hanna has a "letter" saying something about the affair or not. This celebration belongs to the people of Canton and Democrats are as welcome as Republicans. It is hoped that no attempt at anything of the sort will be made, but the fact that the chairman of the Republican national committee has been written to about it may lead him to the conclusion that he is going to manipulate it. His statement is challenged by every Cantonian who has the interests of the city at heart and who wants to carry out the celebration in the spirit in which it was inaugurated. It is for the heroes of the wars and not to further political interests.
Mr. Hanna may look into everything for sordid gain, but the people of Canton will not thank him for his Cleveland utterance. The celebration will go right along and if Mr. Hanna wants to come down and join in the fun he may do so. President McKinley, a Cantonian, will be home to celebrate with the rest of the inhabitants, and will probably resent Mr. Hanna's blundering talks as much as do other citizens.
But the statement is not without value.
If anything of the sort develops it will have none of the spontaneous features about it but will be understood to have been by design and possibly connivance with those who are in authority.THE CANNON'S HISTORY.
While this subject has been forced to an issue, it might be well to relate just how Canton got the cannon that is the nucleus of what will be the grandest Fourth of July celebration that ever occurred in the state. Chairman Hanna, of the Republican national committee ought to know something about it before he talks again. The cannon was secured for Canton at the suggestion of Judge William R. Day, also a Cantonian, and by the labors of a Democratic city council. Mayor James A.
Rice was in office when all the details were arranged and he was before the council on several occasions with such communications as referred to the city's work to secure the trophy. A Democratic council passed all the necessary legislation to get the big gun here. A Democratic council saw to it that all the bills that accrued in getting the gun here were paid and that the contract for the base and for other incidentals was let. But there was heretofore no intention of calling attention to these facts, as the cannon is for the honor and glorification of the men who went to war, without reference to politics, as there are no party divisions when the honor of the flag is the issue. So here is some documentary evidence that Senator Hanna may peruse, while he is assured that if he wants to come over and help celebrate the dedication of the cannon secured through the efforts of Judge Day, Mayor Rice and a Democratic council, he will receive the same cordial welcome that will be accorded anyone else who will be the city's guest.

has weakened there is no change in the local situation, and those who have it are just holding as tight as ever. They are still looking for higher prices. The other local markets continue the same as we have quoted them the past two or three days. For fruits there is a good demand but the prices have not fluctuated much of late. Raspberries are coming into the market in good quantities and are selling at 10 cents a quart. For new potatoes and all kinds of vegetables the market is quite active, with no change in prices.
